Actual drug-testing

Queing to the actual testing process

The Department of the Interior and Local Government Region 1 (DILG R1), in partnership with the Philippine National Police Region 1 Crime Laboratory Offices, supervised and administered the drug testing of 285 DILG R1 employees on June 19 to July 7, 2017.

The mandatory random drug testing supports the administration’s campaign against illegal drugs. Republic Act 9165 also known as the Comprehensive Dangerous Drugs Act of 2002 mandates the government to “pursue an intensive and unrelenting campaign against the trafficking and use of dangerous drugs and other similar substances. Civil Service Commission (CSC) Memorandum Circular No. 13 S. 2017, and CSC Resolution No. 1700653 prescribe the guidelines on the mandatory random drug test for public officials and employees.

All of the 285 DILG R1 personnel (254 permanent employees and 31 contract of service (COS)/ job order workers), who have undergone the random drug testing yielded negative result on Methamphetamine and THC-Metabolites use. The 285 employees represent 97% of the total 293 employees of the DILG R1. (SAO Corazon C. Sibayan)

Completed seawall for Tondol Beach

The newly-constructed seawall for Tondol Beach located at Anda, Pangasinan

Tondol Beach, located at the northern tip of Anda, an island municipality, is one of the finest beaches that the Province of Pangasinan can be proud of because of its fine white sand that is prominently visible during low tides.

The local government unit (LGU) of Anda developed the area, built cottages intended for tourists' convenience, and tapped its income-generating potentials.

However, the increase in seawater level during high tides which pushed the water onshore made it difficult for the locals to attract tourists. The tourists who expected to enjoy ankle-deep water blanketing the beach only end up with disappointments because of the relatively high water level at the shore. Also, the way leading to this side of the barangay becomes flooded, making it hard for the residents and motorists to pass.

In 2015, the Bottom-Up Budgeting Program of the Department of the Interior and Local Government funded the LGU's Construction of Seawall. With the financial allocation of P2,000,000.00, the project made possible the construction of a protection wall and a safer road that connects communities within the barangay.

Temporary job opportunities for local residents were also created during the project construction, which is an indication of progress for the LGU. The completion of the project created a huge impact to the residents of Barangay Tondol.

Lani Caoili, a resident and a caretaker of the beach cottages shared how happy and grateful the residents were because of the seawall project. "Dahil may harang na po yung dagat, hindi na umaabot ang tubig sa mga bahay namin. Nakakadaan na rin ang mga sasakyan kahit maulan" said Lani.

The residents of Tondol are thankful for the project. The Construction of Seawall Project through the DILG's BUB Program provided protection against coastal flooding and sand erosion and built an attractive bay walk for locals and travelers to enjoy. (IO II Alethea A. Cedo)

LGRRC Conference...

Participants doing workshops during the 3rd Quarter Conference

Around 100 participants nationwide composed of DILG Assistant Regional Directors, Division Chiefs and Local Government Academy (LGA) technical personnel participated.

The LGRRC is established in every region. It is a network of institutions collaborating together to leverage and share internal and external knowledge for local governance capacity building and performance excellence. It has 4 programs/facilities, namely: Capacity Development, Public Education and Citizenship, Linkage, and Multi-media and Knowledge. (POIII Marife M. Doculan)

DILG R1 steps-up in strengthening the LDCs

The Department of the Interior and Local Government Region 1 (DILG R1) conducted workshops to strengthen Local Development Councils (LDCs) and improve planning and budgeting processes at the local level.

The Provincial Strategic Direction Setting Conference Workshop was conducted in each province for two days from August 24 to 31, 2017. Representatives from National Government Agencies and the Provincial Governments provided insights on how municipalities should align their programs, projects and activities (PPAs) identified in their Local Development Investment Program (LDIP) with the national, regional, and provincial government priorities. Participants were composed of DILG Field Officers, Municipal Planning and Development Coordinators (MPDCs) and members of the Municipal Development Council Executive Committees (MDC ExeComs).

Subsequently, the one-day Participatory Prioritization Conference Workshop was conducted in all municipalities from August 29 to September 6, 2017. Members of the MDC ExeCom, MPDCs, Municipal Core Planning Team, and representatives from Civil Society Organizations (CSOs) reviewed their LDIPs, and re-prioritized their PPAs to ensure that these are aligned with the Provincial Development and Physical Framework Plan (PDPFP), Regional Development Plan, Regional DRRM Plan, and national priorities contained in the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), Sendai Framework, National Security Policy, and Philippine Development Plan.

Through these activities, the DILG hopes to strengthen the capacity of LDCs in formulating local plans that are harmonized with the provincial, regional and national thrusts to ensure that resources are properly allocated.

The DILG believes that strengthened LDCs can better identify priority projects, which will lead to better program implementation and a more effective service delivery, ultimately achieving inclusive growth and sustainable development. (LG00 V Nicolette May O. Amon)

Reflections

The Department of the Interior and Local Government (DILG) is what the media coined as one of the most powerful agencies in the country for having general supervision over local government units (LGUs).

Ask anyone what a DILG does and they cannot give you a specific role. DILG, it seems, has extended its reach in every type of program – from capacity development trainings and monitoring infrastructure projects to managing the dead and the missing during disasters.

Most local officials revere DILG officers as the go-to person, like a guru that can answer all kinds of questions and handle all kinds of situations – from being a marriage counsellor in the barangay to resolving political debates in the city or municipality.

When I was young, my idea of a DILG officer was someone who knew everything, who can discuss any topic and can interface with any client. Now that I am a part of this Department, this perception has not changed, though it has been challenged a number of times.

People think that when you work in the government, everything comes easy. You sit in front of your computer in an air-conditioned room, and go home at the end of the day.

But being in the DILG is difficult. After passing the grueling qualifying exam (who knew time pressure could be so stressful?), we had to pass the Induction Training for Local Government Operations Officer II (LGOO II). Even during the training, we were afraid that we would not make it. I can't remember how many cups of coffee I had to drink just to stay awake and review. I can't remember how we even finished our group output but we did. And as if the training was not enough, we had to pass the standards set forth by those who came before us. We had to master perfection, or at least try. Our work would undergo so many corrections, the paper would look "bloody". We had to adjust, adapt and bear with it. But we learned.

In addition to the pressures from maintaining good social relations, we have to handle different programs, projects and activities while monitoring the compliance of LGUs to the Local Government Code, and other national government issuances.

Being in the DILG means putting in long hours. DILG is about planning, implementation, and monitoring and evaluation. It means having to deal with papers – reports, documents, memoranda, advisories and instructions. It means deadlines issued today but the output should have been submitted yesterday. It means developing capacity development interventions for LGUs. It means constant innovation albeit constant criticism. It means sacrificing a bit (or a lot) of your time for social life, community obligations and family.

DILG is all these and more. Some have quit. Some are considering giving up.

Yes, being in the DILG is difficult, but being a part of this Department that makes such a huge difference, makes it all worthwhile. And knowing this is what keeps us going.

Region 1 Barangays gear-up for Oplan SAGIP

Liga ng mga Barangay Presidents of the cities and municipalities in Region I and members of the Community-Based Rehabilitation Program (CBRP) Provincial Core Groups convened on July 26-27, 2017 in Ilocos Sur for the Orientation Seminar on Barangay Anti-Drug Abuse Campaigns Focused on Operational Plan Sumuko Ako Sa Gabay Iwas Droga Program (Oplan SAGIP).

Dangerous Drugs Board (DDB) Efforts; Policies and Programs on Anti-Drugs; Policies on Anti-Drugs; Community-Based Intervention Approaches, Concepts, Procedures and Service Delivery Models; Evidence-Based Intervention on the Prevention of Drugs and Substance Use; Effects of Illegal Drugs and Substance Abuse; Process, Parameters and Requirements in Drug Clearing Operations, and Community Mobilizing were discussed during the seminar.

The DDB also introduced their Integrated Drug Monitoring and Reporting System (IDMRIS) and oriented the participants on effective conduct of interviews and facilitation.

Ms. Teresita Pineda, Chief of the Preventive Education, Training and Information Division of the DDB, said that Punong Barangays play important role in the government's campaign against illegal drugs.

"The Punong Barangays as Duty Officers shall conduct the initial assessments of voluntary surrendered drug users and dependents. Also, they being the local chief executives shall take the lead in mobilizing their communities for the implementation of sustainable and effective community-based interventions," Ms. Pineda said.

The Oplan SAGIP as contained in DDB Regulation No. 4, Series of 2016 dated September 19, 2016, is the master plan of the DDB on the management of voluntary surrendered Drug Users and Dependents focused on the provision of sustainable community-based interventions and community reintegration programs.
